Today, Doors are Open to Some of Ottawa's Greatest Architectural Landmarks

Ottawa is a city of intriguing buildings, many of which are open today as part of the Open Doors event. Canada has a lot to celebrate on its 150th birthday this summer. Architecture of historic and aesthetic importance reflects our rich Canadian culture.

At 1451 Wellington West in Ottawa, Mizrahi Developments is delighted to contribute noteworthy architecture and craftsmanship to the landscape of the nation's capital. 1451 Wellington West, a 12 storey midrise in the neighbourhood of Westboro, was officially designated a landmark by the Urban Design Review Panel of Ottawa. With a distinctive copper mansard roof and pale limestone exterior, the iconic building marks the important corner of Island Park Drive and Wellington West.

Today, the doors are open to our Presentation Gallery so visitors can see the level of precision and craftsmanship their new home will have. Your home, which you can custom-design in any configuration you want, will feel like your private, one-of-a-kind mansion in the sky. We look forward to greeting you today to explain our vision for living at a new standard in Ottawa.
